Course Introductory Activity

PURPOSE: The purpose of this introductory activity is to let your colleagues (other students in this course) as well as your instructor learn more about you and your experiences/aspirations in life. Your colleagues will turn out to be extremely important throughout your career. Just remember, you met some of them here first! As an aside, this activity will help the instructor know that you are actively participating in this course and not subject to disenrollment under the EKU “Use It or Lose It” program. We will be utilizing a technology called “VoiceThread™” for this activity. Tutorials for the technology are available on Blackboard.
